Dear Dr. Robinson:-

I am in receipt of your letter regarding the LaRock matter. I am deeply appreciative of your eulogistic remarks at the close of the letter and may find it necessary to accept of your proffer of services in the future.

I quite agree with you as to the disposition of the LaRock claim as you probably would spend money uselessly. This matter has never come to the attention of any Court, so that no Court is in a position to instruct the Motor Vehicle Department at Albany as to a license. I would suggest that you write the Motor Vehicle Department explaining to them the situation and making protest as to the granting of any license in case an application was filed. They will then put that letter on file in the event that the matter comes up in the future.

As to the Judgeship matter, we are now trying to work out a process of elimination between three candidates in this North Country. I have offered to leave it to the lawyers or to the Rep. Co. Com., and I think it will be decided that way, so that we will have only one candidate from Congressman Snell's District in the end. That is the only way in which we can hope to retain the Judgeship in the North Country. The bill is still in Committee, but the Congressman is very hopeful of its passage in the near future. I will keep you advised as soon as I think there is anything to be done.

The refernece in your reminiscences to your Potsdam pastorate certainly brings up fond recollections. I am pleased to note that you think some of your anticipations have proved satisfactory. Of course, there are some people with whom I have had law suits who would not agree with you. My experience is that the active men of the country are those who make the most enemies, either by direct opposition or through jealousy. In my canvass I have the written support of 161 out of 202 of the Rep. County Com., outside of Canton where one of my opponents live, and 57 of the lawyers, which is practically all of the active lawyers of the County. There is no question about how the Bar feels and Mr. Spratt and other men of his stamp are out-spoken in their approval of my candidacy. Of course, politics takes strange turns sometimes and the politicians may work things around so that an entirely new man may be suggested. We simply have to take our chances.

With personal regards to both of you, I remain

Dear Mr. Cubley:-

I have taken the Robinson-LaRock case up with Mrs. LaRock on two or three occasions and am satisfied that they intend to do nothing in this case, although they talked about an adjustment to me on several occasions. I believe that you had better take what steps you think best to get this matter cleaned up.

Dear Mr. Robinson:-

I have been following up the LaRock matter with a hope that I could get it adjusted and get something out of it. I am to-day in receipt of the enclosed letter which evidently is the end of peaceful negotiations. I am wondering whether you want to follow it up any further or not. I submit it for your consideration.

Everything here is going about as usual. Mr. Prout seems to be giving very general satisfaction and we hope the New Year will be auspicious.

Trusting you and yours are as usual and with all of the wishes for the New Year, I remain

Dear Stewart:-

Being unable to attend church a week ago to-day as I was sick with the grippe, I had the pleasure of hearing your entire service over the radio, which is owned by some of the roomers across the hall in the house where I am living.

I just wanted to let you know that I think you are doing a wonderful work through the radio in this way. What a joy it must be to the 'Shut Ins' and to those in the hospital to be able to hear the gospel preached every Sunday!

Then too, you are preaching the truth which one so seldom hears these days.

We left Park Church last Easter time and joined South Church where we can hear the truth preached. No doubt your father knows Dr. Reeve.

Remember me kindly to your father.

I am teaching here in Kenmore.

Sincerely,

The Rev. John B. Laird, D.D.,

Philadelphia, Pa.:

My dear Dr. Laird: —

The suggestions of the Faculty relative to the By-laws will, I suppose, be in the hands of the Board on Tuesday. There comes to my mind a supplemental suggestion which you may or may not regard as important: however, I venture to lay it before you.

Some ten years ago at a meeting of the Board held at the President's house four professors, Drs. Geo. Johnson, W.H. Johnson, Ridgely and myself, took formal obligation to be true to the standards of the Presbyterian Church in connection with our work. Unless I mistake, that pledge has not been required of the professors since appointed, Professors, Kieffer, Labaree, and Reinke.

The requirement does not appear in any draft of the By-laws which I have seen. Possibly it was embodied in a resolution. I am informed that the foundation of the John C. Baldwin Professorship of Theology and Philosophy requires that the professor affirm his loyalty every seven years. If any provision for such affirmation, whether once or more frequently, be required by the Board of the other professors, might it not be advisable to insert that requirement in the By-laws?

As there may be scant time before the meeting to draft such a regulation, I have drafted for your convenience the accompanying form which may be modified to suit your conception. I believe that it might be placed at the close of the section one in the chapter, "Faculties and Students." I hope that I may not appear to you officious in writing this. It occurred to me that the omission had been through oversight.

Sincerely yours, James Carter

Dear Sir:

Your inquiry is very much appreciated and we have pleasure in sending the program of the Mediterranean Cruise and plan of steamer with rates under separate cover. Write to us about any feature of the cruise and ship accommodations, taking full advantage of the personal service our expert staff will give you.

The "Transylvania" has many rooms for the use of one person and generally no more than two passengers are placed in a room - thus there is no over-crowding on the steamer; and on shore the whole party is together at only five ports.

Nearly half the period of the cruise is spent on shore at the twenty places on the itinerary, the stay at each place varying in accordance with its importance, of which we are competent to judge after having taken nearly fifteen thousand American travelers through the Mediterranean on twenty one cruises in our thirty years experience as cruise specialists.

Our rates are reasonable and include hotels, guides, drives and fees, and always some inclusive arrangement at every port. We invite your comparison of our rates with those of other cruises.

We have a most attractive itinerary, the service on ship and shore is first class and the management long experienced. The steamer itself is a brand-new vessel of beautiful proportions and fitted with every comfort.

Our cruises are well known and liked and bookings are taken many months in advance of sailing date, so we respectfully suggest your coming to a favorable decision very promptly, advising us your choice of room or rate and sending $25 deposit to secure your membership.

Anticipating the pleasure of serving you, we are,

Very truly yours,

Dr. W. C. Robinson,

Dear Mr. Robinson:-

Your letter came in further explanation of the accident which you had. We heard of it soon after it occurred in a round about way and later had further particulars from Miss Grace. You both certainly had a narrow escape and can feel thankful that you escaped with your lives. In as much as you have written these parties as to your damages, I think I had better not write them until I hear further from you. If you hear nothing in the course of a few days, then let me know and I will write. You certainly have a valid claim against them and if we can collect anything I see no reason why you should not have your pay.

I was very much disappointed to learn from Rufus on Saturday last that Mr. Scott did not settle with you while you were here. We certainly expected to pay you because we have paid all of the rest and did not intend to make an exception of you. On Saturday Rufus telephoned and asked me if you had been paid. I told him I took it for granted that Mr. Scott had settled with you. Yesterday after church Mr. Scott told me that he had not and I suggested that he send you a check at once. I will follow this up and see that it is done.

Please convey to Mrs. Robinson our expressions of sympathy and also our congratulations for the preservation of both of you. We certainly enjoyed your visit at Potsdam and hope that this accident will not deter you in the future. I will expect to hear from you again in the course of a week or so regarding the claim.

My dear Court:-

After being very ill since December 7th when I was operated on for a bad appendix, I am just beginning to get around again and yesterday went to see Allie for a talk about Class matters.

I did not learn of Porter McMaster's sad death until after I left the hospital February 9th. I saw him on his way to and from Bermuda and thought that he looked remarkably well at that time, but of course appearances are apt to be deceptive when the heart is affected. "Mac" certainly had a tragic life and it is wonderful, as I recall his happy genial manner and robust frame, to think how he stood up under all the sorrow, suffering and weakness he had been called upon to bear.

Allie has not done anything yet about appointing a Memorial Committee but suggests that you act as Chairman of such a committee, consisting of Ben Hedges, Daniels and any others you may choose, with Allie and myself ex-officio if desired.

Allie handed to me the obituary notice which you prepared and which I enclose with a couple of suggested changes.

It was good to get a glimpse of you last July when we were visiting Hector and his family, and I hope if you come to New York you will surely let me know and let me see something of you.

Faithfully yours,

Ernest T. Carter
